

CS-350 Smart Thermostat State Machine

This diagram matches the thermostat behavior shown in the current Python work: the mode button cycles through OFF, HEAT, and COOL; the set point buttons adjust the target temperature; the AHT20 sensor supplies current temperature through I2C; GPIO/PWM controls the red and blue LEDs; UART sends comma-delimited state, temperature, and set point data to simulate server communication.